DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

1. The Office acknowledges receipt of Applicant's Response; 30 September 2004.
2. Applicant has amended claims 1-4 and 7-8, and added new claims 11-19. Claims 1-19 are pending, and are examined in the instant action.
3. This action is made FINAL necessitated by Applicant's amendment.
4. All rejections not addressed below have been withdrawn.
5. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Information Disclosure Statement

6. A signed copy of the IDS filed 30 September 2004 is included with this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 15, 17 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chee et. al. (Transformation of soybean via Agrobacterium and analysis of transformed plants., in Methods in Molecular Biology, Vol 44, Ed. Gartland and Davey, Humana Press, NJ, 1995, pages 101-119. (hereafter "Chee '95")).

Claims 15, 17 and 19 are drawn to a transgenic soybean plant, cell, and shoot, produced by the method of claim 1 or 16. These claims are product-by-process claims, and are thereby rejected over Chee '95, who teaches a transgenic soybean plant, cell and shoot. See In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), which teaches that a product-by-process claim may be properly rejectable over prior art teaching the same product produced by a different process, if the process of making the product fails to distinguish the two products.

Accordingly, Chee anticipates the claimed invention.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 1638

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-10, 16 and 18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,384,301. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the '301 claims are drawn to a method of making a germline-transformed soybean plants using Agrobacterium mediation comprising initiating the germination of a soybean seed, isolating the embryonic axis, wounding the explant, and exposing the explant to Agrobacterium.... The instant claims are drawn to method of making a germline-transformed soybean plants using Agrobacterium mediation comprising initiating the germination of a soybean seed, isolating the embryonic axis, and exposing the explant to Agrobacterium.... That is, the instant claims are silent as to the wounding the explant. However, the wounding process is inherently part of the process of preparing an explant, which is by definition an excised plant part. Alternatively, a separate wounding step would have been an obvious design choice, in absence of evidence to the contrary.

The Office will hold in abeyance requirement of filing of a terminal disclaimer until allowable subject matter is indicated, as requested by the Applicant.

10. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re

Art Unit: 1638

Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 and 11-13 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,384,301. This is a double patenting rejection.

Remarks

11. Claims 1-14, 16 and 18 are free of the prior art given the failure of the prior art to teach or reasonably suggest a method of Agrobacterium mediated soybean transformation which is tissue culture-free, which utilizes an isolated embryonic axis and using a selection agent in the medium as stated in the parent application, now US 6,384,301.

12. No claims are allowed.

13. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1638
